Couple 'bled dry OAP's accounts'

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COUPLE "bled dry" the husband's elderly father after gaining control of his three bank accounts, a court heard.

Haverhill couple John Apps, 41, and Carol Apps, 38, are alleged to have withdrawn more than £14,000 over a six-month period.

The couple, of Bellings Road, have pleaded not guilty at Ipswich Crown Court to three charges of fraud by abuse of their position between November 2007 and June 2008.

The alleged victim was the late John James Apps, a former Port of London worker in his 80s.

Prosecutor Richard Potts said Mr Apps senior had lost his own home in south Essex when it was repossessed after he remortgaged it to help his only son and daughter-in-law with their financial problems.

The jury heard he told the couple they could access his accounts to help him pay his rent, council tax and other bills after the death of his wife, who had handled their financial affairs.

The court heard John and Carol Apps withdrew £14,693 from the accounts while Mr Apps senior's rent, council tax and electricity bills all were allowed to run into arrears.

Women unite for exchanges

HAVERHILL now has its own International Women's Group – and it is looking for more members and volunteers.

The group was launched at Haverhill Arts Centre last Friday during National Volunteers Week.

Staff members from Haverhill Volunteer Centre started the group, which is open to international and British women, to provide mutual support to women of all nationalities in and around Haverhill.

Its activities may include social functions, learning, sharing, training opportunities, cultural exchange, volunteering and language knowledge exchange.

As well as providing a social forum to exchange views, and ideas and make friends, it is also aimed at sharing and learning about the local community and all its cultures, providing training to improve skills and encouraging support to participate in activities in the community.

To find out more about the group, contact the volunteer centre on (01440) 708444.

Launched: the first meeting of Haverhill's new International Women's Group.

Youth activity bus is just the ticket

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Young people in Haverhill and surrounding villages will have no excuse for being bored any more when a colourful new activity bus hits the streets.

The new vehicle, which cost £49,000 to provide and staff, was launched at the Burton Centre in Camps Road, Haverhill, last Thursday and declaring it open was 15-year-old Stacey Roper, from the town.

Town mayor Elaine McManus also attended the launch and got on board the bus to see what it had to offer. She said: "I think it is brilliant. It is something that the town really needs."

The new vehicle, decorated to the youngsters' own designs, is a mobile youth project with a brand new van, specially equipped with all kinds of activities for ages 13 to 19 years.

The idea has come from young people who are out in the town of an evening and want to use facilities, but not based in a building.

Simon Pickering, youth and community development officer at St Edmundsbury Borough Council, said: "We get up to 70 young people in Haverhill coming to a Wos Up night, which is a summertime, borough-wide mobile youth project and when we asked them about what they wanted organising in Haverhill they loved the idea of their own vehicle."

The Haverhill mobile youth project will operate four nights a week from the long wheel-base Mercedes Sprinter van that has been kitted out with seating, sports equipment and hot drink facilities. It carries its own generator to run the DJ equipment, lap tops with internet access, games consoles, TV and DVD player and sound system on board. The design for the van exterior has been created by Victor Murlis, a Haverhill artist, who has worked with young people and local company Stylize.

Kerry Young, Suffolk County Council youth worker, who runs the Hangar youth centre in Haverhill said: "The van will be operated by Suffolk County Council youth workers and we'll have all kinds of issue-based information and educational resources. We will be there to connect the young people to the information they need, both in the evenings and at events such as the Big Day out and U Festival."

Inspector Andrew Mason of Suffolk Police said: "I am very proud to be a partner in delivering this exciting new facility. I think it's one of the best things I have ever done as a police officer and the young people of Haverhill should really enjoy using the van."

"The fact that it is going out so many days of the week, is available to all people and is taking activities and facilities to the young people is just fabulous. All activities are going to be free. Suffolk Police support this van in every way and I have no doubt it will be a huge success."

Shows goes on despite damage

ORGANISERS of a village festival say the show will go on, despite the theft of equipment and damage to community facilities.

The Meadowlark event in Kedington is building towards its carnival and procession on Saturday.

But members of the Kedington Community Association (KCA) arrived on Tuesday morning to find the community centre had been damaged in the break-in and four amplifiers and a projector had been stolen.

Library staff had already found its doors had been forced open and damaged but nothing was stolen.

The offenders damaged doors and locks in the community centre and went through cupboards containing equipment owned by community groups.

Security footage shows two intruders on BMX-style bikes were in the area at 12.30am-2am on Tuesday.

One is about 5ft 8in tall and wore a dark hoodie top and light tracksuit bottoms. The other was slightly shorter with a dark hoodie top and tracksuit bottoms. Both wore gloves and carried torches.

Steve Brown, KCA chairman, said: "It is extremely annoying but the show will go on. That is typical of the community spirit in Kedington – we all help each other out."

He said the stolen equipment was worth about £2,000 and estimated the bill to repair the damage will run into hundreds of pounds.

Anyone with information about the incident should call Pc Trish Sinclair on (01284) 7774100.

Lifting the title: Stuart Thomson won the ASN East Anglia Bodybuilding Championships on his debut.

Muscle man Stuart ready for finals push

BODYBUILDER Stuart Thomson has won a regional competition and is now in training for a national title.

He won the ASN East Anglia Bodybuilding Championships in Great Yarmouth – the first time the 28-year-old, of Vanners Road, Haverhill, had entered a competition.

He has been a member of Haverhill Leisure Centre for 12 years and entered the competition as Stuart Thomson from Abbeycroft Leisure.

He said: "It was just a fantastic feeling to win and overwhelming. It was very nerve wracking on stage."

"The hard work and training really paid off and I cannot thank enough Abbeycroft Leisure and all the supporters who came along to the competition to cheer me on."

He will now compete in The Novice Height Class British Finals in Birmingham on November 28.

He said: "I have five months to train so I am going to work even harder on cleaning up my diet and increasing muscle."

"This competition will bring together all the winners from the regional championships to compete for the British title so I have to continue to train hard."

Dominic Greenwood, general manager at the leisure centre, said: "We are so proud of Stuart. This is a fantastic achievement."

"He has become a role model in the gym, inspiring younger members to train for their goals."

Couple 'bled dry accounts'

Mr Potts said that between November 2007 and January 2008, cash withdrawals took place at an "alarming rate", with £3,550 taken from two accounts in three weeks.

By the end of January the proceeds of a £6,000 insurance policy had been whittled down to £600 after just over two months, it was alleged.

The pensioner was left with just 35p in his Abbey National account, £1.29 in the Post Office and £8.40 with Barclays, said Mr Potts.

But he also faced rent, council tax and electricity bill arrears of more than £1,200.

Mr Potts said the couple had "bled him dry and no longer had any use for him".

An investigation began after council housing staff became concerned at the level of arrears, despite Mr Apps senior receiving housing benefit.

Mr Potts told the jury: "They knew of John James' poor money skills and, in order to maintain or bolster their finances, they abused their position of trust."

Council housing welfare worker Denise Benham said Mr Apps senior could be forgetful at times but did not consider him to be confused about money.

She said: "Once he was shown how to pay bills he did it on his own."

The court heard Carol Apps made many of the cash withdrawals in Haverhill and her husband, a long-distance lorry driver, was also involved. Money had been withdrawn at cash machines in Cambridge and in the West Midlands.

When interviewed Carol Apps told police her father-in-law had asked her to look after his finances as he became confused.

John Apps said his father had given him his Abbey National bank card and told him to use it if he was in financial difficulties.

The trial continues.

Council chief's £700 a day job

A COUNCIL'S decision to hire a communication chief for up to £700 a day – equivalent to £182,000 a year – has been defended by a Conservative member as "small beer" but slammed by a Government minister.

Suffolk County Council is employing Jill Rawlins as temporary head of communications, starting next week on a six-month contract, and the rate of pay is between £2,000 and £3,500 a week.

The decision by the Conservative-run council to make the appointment just as David Cameron has called for "painful" cuts in public spending has drawn sharp criticism but also support.

A council spokesman said the new appointee would review communications across the council to make "significant savings".

Cllr Lisa Richards, who represents Newmarket and Red Lodge on the county council and is portfolio holder for waste, said: "We hope this will drive through more savings than the post will cost us."

"We need to ensure we are getting the best deal for Suffolk taxpayers."

Tory Cllr Tim Marks, who represents Haverhill Cangle division on the council, said: "She has been tasked with bringing in half a million pounds in savings – £700 a day is small beer."

"You have to speculate to accumulate is the way I look at it."

And deputy leader Jane Storey justified the appointment as it would speed up a programme of budget savings.

She said: "You have to remember the post doesn't offer sick pay – if they don't turn up for work, they don't get paid."

"There's no pension and no other benefits."

But the council's Lib Dem opposition leader, Kathy Pollard, said: "What would the public rather have – four new firefighters or one head of communications?"

"We all know what the answer would be."

At Government level, Communities Secretary Eric Pickles said the council had not made a "compelling case" for offering a "super salary".

He said: "We are calling time on this reckless attitude to spending taxpayers' cash on super salaries."

Local government must wake up and realise the gravy train is on borrowed time.

"The days of taking the taxpayer for a ride are over."

"We must deliver value for money and I believe our plans to throw open the books of councils will put an end to wasteful spending."

Matthew Elliott, of the TaxPayers' Alliance, said the appointment

“What would the public rather have – four new firefighters or one head of communications? We all know what the answer would be.”

Cllr Kathy Pollard

would leave Suffolk's taxpayers with "an astronomical bill".

He said: "An age of austerity is coming and the county council should make do with the communications staff they already have."

Business park scheme set to move forward

THE development of a major site in Haverhill was due to move a step with councillors recommended to approve a "draft concept statement".

Members of the Haverhill Working Party were due to give their backing today to proposals to draw up a masterplan for the Hanchett End site.

Developer Nic Rumsey, a director of Carisbrooke Investments, said it owned most of the 30-acre site for development into Haverhill Business Park, and was negotiating to buy the remaining plots.

He had previously called for a concept statement from St Edmundsbury Borough Council – and it has delivered one that was recommended for approval by the working party.

The site is zoned for light industrial, research and office development but Mr Rumsey has proposed a mixed-use site with houses, shops and a hotel.

The concept statement says: "The site is located on rising ground at the western edge of Haverhill and has long been recognised as having the potential to become a special gateway site."

"The elevation of the site makes it particularly prominent when approached from the north-west and visible to long-distance views from the north and west."

High standards of design are stressed in the statement.

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

It says: "A high standard of design will be required throughout the site, with development on the highest ground restricted in height. Areas with frontage to the A1307 will be required to achieve high standards of architecture within a landscaped setting."

"That part of the site fronting the A1307 at its junction with the A1017 is of particular importance at the entrance of the town and will require a landmark building or buildings."

"A similar approach should be taken at the north-east entrance to the site." The site fronts the town's bypass and the A1307 and vehicular access would be at two separate points from the A1307.

Soft landscaping would be used to provide a 20-metre wide buffer zone to the rear of residential properties fronting Hanchett End and minimise the visual impact on the surrounding countryside. Pedestrian and cycle links would be provided to link with the established footpath/ cycleway network in adjoining residential areas.

As reported in the Weekly News last week, the town council's planning committee has opposed plans for a new retail and business park proposed by HPG (Developments) Ltd on the site of the former Project Office Furniture site.

Awards for day centre helpers

VOLUNTEERS at a day centre for older people were presented with long service and appreciation awards by their chief executive.

Daphne Savage, chief executive of Age Concern Suffolk, visited Greenfields Day Centre, in Camps Road, Haverhill, to recognise the efforts made by the dedicated volunteers.

Awards and presents were given to Joyce Mayes, Pauline North, Ann Gould, Val Page, Eileen Phillips, Mo Whitehead, Gwen Blomley, Carol Everitt, Myra Miller, Nicola Spiking and Edith Weaver.

Janet Ward, day centre manager, said: "It would be really difficult to run the day centre without the volunteers.

"We really value their input. Some of them are the same age as our members."

The centre operates from 9.30am to 3.30pm on Mondays and has a capacity for 25 people from the town and nearby villages.

To volunteer to lend a helping hand, call 07841 985795.

Trio assaulted on square

A MAN and two women were assaulted by a man in Haverhill's Strassbourg Square.

A group of people were sitting on benches when the man approached and shouted at them in a foreign language. He assaulted one of the men, causing facial injuries.

Two women approached and spoke to the man and they were assaulted. One suffered minor facial injuries. The man was then collected from the car park.

Police want to hear from anyone with information on the assault between 9.55pm and 10pm on Wednesday, June 2.

The man is white, 6ft tall, of stocky build, in his early 20s with very short brown hair. He wore shorts and a white vest.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Mel Leaman at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

At the same location on Friday, a woman suffered a minor wound to her shoulder after an unknown object was thrown or fired at her between 12.45pm and 1.05pm.

Anyone with information should call Pc Andrew Green.

Four face rave charges

FOUR men have been charged after an illegal rave in a disused warehouse.

The men were charged with attempting to carry on a music event without a licence, following an incident in Homefield Road, Haverhill, on Saturday, November 21, last year.

They are Daniel Rowe, 23, from Rider Gardens, Fishtoft, Boston, in Lincolnshire, Carl Rowe, 22, from Park Gardens, Baldock, in Hertfordshire, David Brickell, 20, from Ashfield Road, North Walsham, in Norfolk, and Ashley Geaves, 26, from Cade Close, Letchworth, in Hertfordshire.

They are due before Bury St Edmunds Magistrates tomorrow. Brickell has also been charged with possession of cannabis.

See first match at cinema

THERE will be a big match atmosphere at Haverhill Arts Centre where the England v USA game will be shown on the big cinema screen – complete with surround sound.

Doors open 45 minutes before the game and a bar and tuck shop will be in operation. The venue offers a child-friendly environment and all under-16s must be accompanied.

Admission to the event is free but it is advisable to book a place in advance. Call the box office on (01440) 714140 for a ticket.

Crèche re-opens at leisure centre

A CRÈCHE has re-opened after a two-month closure because of staffing issues and low attendances.

The crèche at Haverhill Leisure Centre re-opened on Tuesday after a review of the facilities and opening times. It will now operate Tuesday to Thursday from 9.30am to noon.

During the closure, leisure centre staff spoke to regular users to get feedback on the opening times.

Dominic Greenwood, general manager of the centre, said: "We now have a full complement of staff in the Kid City area so I am delighted that we are able to offer the crèche facility to people in Haverhill once again."

"We still need to train the new staff to be able to supervise children attending the crèche, but by reducing the opening hours we can utilise our one qualified member of staff to look after the crèche."

"I am extremely grateful to the regular users of the crèche for their feedback and input into the new opening hours. We have appreciated their support during this period."

The crèche costs £2.50 per hour per child. Additional children can attend for £1.50 per hour per child and booking is advisable.

I want to start help group

Sir, Being the grandparent of a child with autism, I know how very difficult it is for parents with such children to find help and support. Because of this, I am starting a group to provide help and support to the parents of children with autism or Asperger's syndrome. The objectives of this group will be:

- Provision of a reference library;
- Provision of information for parents to the outside world and from the outside world to parents;
- Signposting – referring parents to experts, either expert organisations or people; and
- The provision of respite care for those parents who need this.

The provision of respite care would be for those parents whose child or children are suffering severe problems and this will need to be done in partnership with existing organisations that provide these facilities. The group's job will be to provide the information for members to access this service. Can interested parents please spread the word as far and wide as possible to other parents with autistic children? The sooner we get our group established, the sooner we can help.

If you are interested, or know a family who might be interested, please can you contact me on (01440) 714641 or 07719 301 787, email pat.hanlon@talktalk.net

Bus driver went the extra mile

Sir, Burtons buses have had bad publicity in the past but I travelled to Bury yesterday and the driver was polite and very helpful. He saw a young woman with a baby the other side of the road who wanted our bus so he stopped and got out, went across the road and helped her over and put her buggy on for her and helped her out the other end.

There were three or four ladies on the bus and he helped them all off with their shopping. I feel he needs praise because you hear so much rudeness these days. It did not go unnoticed because everybody thanked him. I myself am an ex-bus driver and both my partner and I always thank the drivers.

Students get fit for big trek

FIVE adventurous students are being put through their paces at their local gym in preparation for a trek across the Himalayas.

Haverhill Leisure Centre is supporting the students from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, who are training for a four-and-a-half week educational expedition to India in July.

The centre has devised a training programme and given the girls free use of its gym to help them prepare for the trip, which includes a two-week trek across the Himalayas.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Jade Huggins, 16, from Stradishall; Rhian Fawcett, 16, from Clare; Laura Johnson, 16, from Wickhambrook; Ailsa Patullo, 15, from Hundon; and Hannah Conroy, 16, from Haverhill, will fly to India on July 14 for an experience of a lifetime.

Accompanied by their German teacher and fellow students Lauren Garner, 16, from Haverhill and Abbie Hyett, 15, from Poslingford, they will spend the first two weeks taking part in project work at a school in Rajasthan before heading for the Himalayas.

Rhian said: "We are really grateful to Haverhill Leisure Centre for letting us use their gym for free."

"Obviously there are no mountains in Haverhill so by using the machines in the gym, which simulate the steep climbs we will need to be able to do, it will help us prepare for the trek."

The girls, who are also revising for their GCSEs, have each had to raise £3,000 to go on the trip.

Jade said: "I am really looking forward to the trip to help one of the poorer communities in the world. I think we will come back changed and hopefully not taking life so much for granted anymore."

Dominic Greenwood, general manager at the leisure centre, said: "I really admire these girls."

"They have decided to take part in what will be a very exciting but difficult trip, raised all the money themselves and are training hard to get into shape for the trek, all this while still revising for their exams and holding down part time jobs."

"We were thrilled to be able to support them in this way."

Yob attacks being linked

A BUS window was smashed by yobs hurling stones from a footbridge. Nobody was injured in the attack on Wrattling Road, Haverhill, at around 12.30am on Sunday. Suffolk police are linking the crime with an incident at Cangle Junction between 11.45pm on Saturday and 3am on Sunday when 36 shopping trolleys were damaged after they were pushed over a barrier at Tesco and fell 25 feet. Calls in relation to both incidents should be made to Sgt Mel Leaman at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Street meets with police

RESIDENTS have two chances to meet members of the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team next week. A street meeting will be held at Haverhill Arts Centre at 10am-11am on Tuesday and another will be held at the same time on Saturday, June 19 at Sainsbury's. Residents and representatives from local businesses are invited for an informal chat to discuss their concerns and expectations. For more information on the SNT, visit www.onesuffolk.co.uk

Thieves raid home

BURGLARS raided a home after entering through an unlocked window. They stole a mobile phone, an mp4 player, a watch, a sat nav, a camera and a Nintendo DS from a house in Sorrel Walk, Haverhill, between 8am and 4pm on Monday. Anyone with information should call Det Con Ben Clark at West Suffolk CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

DVD player stolen

THIEVES smashed a car window and made off with a DVD player and speakers. They broke into a green Peugeot 406 in a parking bay in Thurlow Place, Haverhill, between 3.30am and 3.35am on Monday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc James Narayan on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Jail 'inevitable' for man who had underage sex

Top stars go to bistro at arts centre

DINERS at the Bistro in Haverhill Arts Centre are guaranteed a five-star experience.

It received five stars in a recent assessment by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's Environmental Health Department.

The council's 'scores on the doors' scheme looks at several factors including the food produced, methods of handling, hygiene, structure and confidence in the management.

The Bistro is one of less than five town businesses rated as five-star.

In addition to a look 'behind the scenes' at the Five star experience: Diana Knightly and Sue Ross at the Bistro.

Bistro, the inspector commented on the welcome and personal service given to customers by staff.

The Bistro is open 9.30am to 3.30pm Mondays to Saturdays, with a 2.30pm close on Wednesdays.

It has a baby change area and breastfeeding mothers are welcomed. It also offers free wi-fi and has laptops that customers can use.

A MAN who committed a second underage sex act while on bail for a previous one will be assessed to see whether he is a sexual predator.

Adam Champion, 25, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court last Thursday when he admitted unlawfully having sex with a 15-year-old girl in June 2009 and a second charge relating to a different girl in February 2010.

The girls cannot be named for legal reasons.

Judge John Holt ordered that Champion's case be adjourned until the week commencing June 21, so that he can be assessed to see whether he is suitable for the Thames Valley sex offenders treatment programme.

The judge refused to give Champion bail because he felt the defendant presented a risk to young girls and that a prison sentence was inevitable.

The judge said an assessment was needed to decide whether Champion, of Argyle Court,

BY JO DEEKS

Haverhill, should be made the subject of an imprisonment for public protection order, or receive treatment under extended licence after his sentence, when he was back in the community.

The judge said: "He has already committed one offence while on bail.

"I have read the pre-sentence reports and the psychiatric reports and I need an assessment before I can sentence him.

"He is not a paedophile, but he could be a sexual predator. Young girls under 16 appear to be at risk and I cannot grant him bail. In my view a prison sentence is inevitable."

Jane Oldfield, defending, said arrangements had been made for Champion to be assessed after he pleaded guilty to the original offence in March, but he had been unable to attend the appointment through illness.

£721k cash pot for grants

BY JO DEEKS
Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

LOCAL groups can apply for cash funding offered by the West Suffolk Local Strategic Partnership.

This year, the group has increased its partnership funding to £661,000 (last year the pot was around £400,000) and the popular Community Chest scheme for grass roots projects has tripled from £20,000 to £60,000.

John Griffiths, chair of the West Suffolk LSP, said: "Both our grant schemes have been hugely popular and each year the number of strong applications has increased.

"These funds are pumped into projects that help make life better for the people of West Suffolk so we are delighted to be able to boost the coffers with an extra £721,000 to get more money where it is really needed."

The partnership fund is available to public and voluntary sector partnerships in West Suffolk. Applicants are encouraged to seek match funding from other organisations to help them get any new joint projects off the ground. The maximum bid allowance is £60,000.

The Community Chest scheme will be offering a maximum grant of £2,000 to voluntary organisations or town or parish councils in West Suffolk.

In the past, successful bids have been made by local play groups, sports clubs, disabled groups and voluntary organisations.

Application forms and full guidance notes for both schemes are available on the WSLSP website and email applications are welcomed. Visit <http://www.one.suffolk.co.uk/WSLSP/WSLSP+Funding+Application+Forms.htm>

Old stars to net charity funds

FORMER England internationals may be giving expert views on the World Cup but some will be in Linton to show their ball playing skills.

The Aston Villa Olds Stars XI will play the Linton Aztecs Select XI at the village college on Sunday.

Among the Villa old boys who could be taking part are England internationals Paul Merson, Mark Walters, Tony Daley, Stan Collymore and Nigel Spink.

Steve Staunton, the former Republic of Ireland player and manger, is expected to play and the team is managed by Chris Nicholl, who played in the 1982 World Cup for Northern Ireland.

The action starts with a ladies game at noon and the main event kicks off at 2.30pm. Proceeds will go to charities chosen by the Aztecs and Aston Villa's Old Stars.

Village college students are holding a tombola to raise funds for the Teenage Cancer Trust (TCT) and 25p from each match day programme will also benefit the TCT, which is trying to raise £2.5 million for a new unit in Cambridge.

Summer shines on art group's new exhibition

SOME striking new work is adorning the walls of Haverhill Arts Centre's bistro as Haverhill Art Group launches its summer exhibition.

The exhibition is sponsored by the Haverhill Town Council and has more than 60 works of art on show, in a variety of subjects and media.

Organisers say it is well worth a visit, as most of the pictures are up for sale at "very reasonable" prices.

The show is on till the end of the month.

Haverhill Art Group continues to grow with many new members joining the ranks and others are always welcome to join them.

For more information visit the exhibition or call chairman Bill Hubbuck on (01440) 762740.

Police watch out for Cup violence

WIVES and girlfriends are being encouraged to report drink-fuelled domestic violence during the World Cup.

Suffolk police are highlighting domestic violence in one of four posters they are issuing in connection with the tournament.

National figures from the Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO) showed that there was a 30 per cent increase in domestic violence during the last World Cup.

Although a similar increase was not seen in Suffolk, the county's force has said that there were more domestic violence incidents where drink was a factor.

During the England-Ecuador match in 2006, 25 of the 30 domestic violence incidents were drink-related.

Marianne Fellowes, of the county's domestic abuse team, said: "Alcohol is no excuse for emotional, financial, physical or sexual abuse within a relationship.

"There are opportunities for offenders to change their behaviour and for victims to understand the true nature of abuse, and to access groups or individual support.

"We encourage people to seek help as soon as possible, whether it is through ourselves or other organisations."

The police campaign is also encouraging victims of racial abuse or other "hate crimes" to report them.

Inspector Chris Galley said police in Haverhill had been working with the town's licensed premises to ensure everyone can enjoy the feast of football.

He said: "Local Safer Neighbourhood Team officers will be out before games, meeting customers.

"We have been working with the licensing authority and the licensed premises and they are taking a positive approach.

"It should mean everybody should have an enjoyable tournament. If people have problems, we urge them to give us a call."

He said officers would be on high-visibility patrols in the town after the matches and he said the force would deal "robustly" with any incidents of domestic abuse.

He said: "Domestic abuse is something we are always looking out for, not just during the World Cup."

'My little girls helped me through battle with cancer'

Pride and joy: Clair, with Poppy, left, and Lottie, says being a mum is "the one thing I always wanted to do in life." Pictures: Keith Heppell 646655/667

RUNNING out of her playroom, a toy pig tucked under one arm, little Lottie asks her mummy for a cuddle and then some warm milk, please.

Aged four, she's adorable. And, along with her big sister Poppy, 6, she's clearly the apple of her mother's eye.

"I do love being a mum," says Clair Meager, pulling Lottie on to her lap and giving her a squeeze. "It's the one thing I always wanted to do in life. I can't say it's always been easy; a lot's happened in the last few years... But the girls gave me a focus: they've really helped me through."

When Lottie was just eight months old, Clair was diagnosed with an aggressive form of breast cancer. Only 35, she was prescribed surgery, chemo, radiotherapy, numerous medications. It was, she admits, a real rollercoaster ride – which ended with a full hysterectomy and the breakdown of her marriage.

"As I said, it's not always been easy," says Clair, now 37. "But the cancer changed me: it made me a stronger person. And it made me want to achieve things – to finish my degree, go to Paris, see Kylie in concert... I wanted to know that, if the cancer ever returned, I could look back and say 'I've done all those things, been to all those places'; it made me want to get out there and really live my life." Among Clair's goals was to raise both cash and awareness for cancer research and support charities – to date, she's raised more than £7,000 through sponsored walks and runs.

Diagnosed when her baby was just 8 months old, Clair Meager, who is running the Race for Life, says her two girls gave her a focus. Interview by ALICE RYAN

Next month, Clair will be one of 8,000 women pulling on their trainers and hitting the streets of Cambridge for the annual Race for Life. A sponsored event, open to women only, it's held in aid of Cancer Research UK.

Since its launch in 1994, Race for Life has grown into the largest women-only fundraising event in Britain. Open to people of all ages and levels of fitness, 230 races now take place up and down the country every summer.

Every pound raised goes to a 4,500-strong team of researchers, doctors and nurses, all dedicated to helping more people beat cancer; so far, an incredible 4.7 million women have raced for life – raising more than £370 million in the process.

Taking place on July 4, the 2010 Cambridge race will be the first ever to traverse the historic city centre: starting on Parker's Piece, women can walk, jog or run the 5km route to Jesus Green. Between them, the Cambridge racers are aiming to raise an awe-inspiring £577,000 this year alone.

"It's always very emotional," admits Clair, who will be running alongside fellow breast cancer survivor Hilary Tunnicliffe – her former biology teacher at Parkside Federation in Cambridge. Hilary made history last year by submitting the biggest ever Race for Life team; this time, Clair will be joining her troops.

"Doing something like Race for Life is probably the only time I let it all in – and let it all out," continues Clair. "I always cry. You can't sit around every day thinking about cancer, but on those occasions, well, that's what they're all about... I don't see that as a negative thing at all. In fact, I think it's healing."

Sitting in the kitchen of her Stretham home, Clair explains she discovered a lump in her left breast when Lottie was still a small baby.

"I literally just folded my arms, tucking my hands under my armpits, and felt a little lump," she remembers. "As soon as I felt it, I just knew what it was. I can't explain it, but I just knew. The first thing that went through my head was 'I don't want to have chemo; I don't want to lose my hair'..."

Visiting the doctor the next day, Clair was swiftly referred to Addenbrooke's. To begin with, medics thought the lump might simply be a cyst: statistics show that the vast majority of breast cancers – eight out of 10 – are diagnosed in women over 50; Clair was only 35. But tests confirmed ■ Race for Life Cambridge is once again being supported by our sister paper, the Cambridge News – looked out for a special post-race supplement, packed with pictures from the event, on Monday, July 5.

Clair's fears. She had cancer and, though caught at an early stage, it was an aggressive form. "They said they wanted to give me all the treatment they could," she explains. "In the short time between me finding it and having it out, the lump had grown."

After a lumpectomy, Clair started chemo. "The only person around my age I knew who'd been through it was Kylie," she laughs. "She was finishing treatment around the time I started. But from the beginning I focused on the positive. It never occurred to me that I might die. I didn't allow myself to think like that."

Among the toughest things was, continues Clair, telling Poppy, then three, that her mummy was ill. "We said that mummy had monster cells and she needed special medicine to get rid of them because they were making her poorly," says Clair. "We drew pictures of the monster cells and the medicine, and I took her to the hospital, just into the waiting room, so she knew where I was going when I disappeared for treatment. Considering her age, she handled it all very well."

With her husband working from home, so he could continue his job and also care for the girls, Clair's mum took her for her chemo appointments. "I lost my hair after the second dose," she recalls. "And, in fact, it seemed like an insignificant thing by then – so much else was going on."

Chemo was, admits Clair, a gruelling process. With nausea and exhaustion among the side-effects, she says "there were times when I'd just had enough. I do remember thinking 'If this comes back, I don't know if I can go through all this again'. The worst thing for me wasn't the intravenous chemo, actually. I opted to take part in a trial and switched to a tablet form part-way through; from a psychological point of view, I found that even harder – I was taking these tablets knowing how horrible they'd make me feel."

Spending as much time as possible with her children, Clair says they inspired her to keep going. After chemo came radiotherapy and then 18 doses of the headline-grabbing drug herceptin, hailed as a revolutionary breast cancer treatment.

Just as Clair seemed to be nearing the finish line, doctors told her that she had tested positive for HNPCC, a genetic condition which raises the risk of developing a whole range of cancers. "They said I had a 60 per cent chance of developing colon cancer, uterine cancer and ovarian cancer," she explains.

"My father died of bowel cancer when he was 40. My parents had separated by then; I didn't know him all that well. It wasn't until I was diagnosed with cancer that I really thought about what he'd been through, how hard it must have been."

"I don't remember feeling angry when they told me, but I knew I had a lot of thinking to do."

After much soul-searching, Clair opted for a full hysterectomy (to prevent ovarian or uterine cancer developing in the future). "I can continue to be monitored for breast and colon cancer," she explains, "but it's far harder to check for ovarian or uterine problems."

"I never wanted to say never where having more children was concerned. But I realised that I had two girls already – and that I'd rather have more time with them than risk developing anything else."

Now separated from her husband, Clair admits she has some bad days. But, seemingly aglow with health and enthusiasm for life, she is looking to the future.

With an OU degree in English Literature now under her belt – she's only just graduated – Clair's ambition is to train as a teacher when the girls are a little older. And she's currently in the process of qualifying as a yoga instructor, something she credits with giving her both peace and perspective.

Doctors can't screen for HNPCC but, because it's an inherited condition, Clair says both her sister and daughters will start having regular health checks at an early age, to be on the safe side; routine mammograms aren't carried out until women are in their 50s.

Statistics show that, thanks to early detection and advances in research, more women are surviving breast cancer now than ever before.

"By the time my girls are my age, things will have moved on even further," adds Claire. "That's why I want to raise money for Cancer Research – to help women like me in the future. And I want to raise awareness too, because the earlier cancer is detected the better: if you notice any changes in your breasts at all, go straight to the doctor."

Clair will remain on the anti-cancer drug tamoxifen for the next two years – and will continue to have health checks for the foreseeable future.

"You just have to keep going," adds Clair. "Don't push yourself too hard; don't expect too much of yourself. Take one day at a time, keep putting one foot in front of the other. It's like doing Race for Life: it's the only way to reach that finish line."

Breast cancer: the facts

■ Breast cancer is now the most common cancer in the UK; it's the second most common cause of cancer death in women, after lung cancer.

■ In 2007 alone, almost 45,700 women were diagnosed with breast cancer – that's around 125 women each and every day.

■ 8 in 10 breast cancers are diagnosed in women aged 50 and over.

■ Breast cancer incidence rates have increased by around 50 per cent in the last 25 years.

■ The NHS breast screening programme in England saves an estimated 1,400 lives a year.

■ More women are surviving breast cancer now than ever before: almost two out of three women survive the disease by 20 years or more.

■ Each year in the UK around 12,000 women and 70 men die from breast cancer.

Picnic follows walk in park

FAMILIES enjoyed a picnic in the park with a sponsored walk to raise money for a school and a new church building in Haverhill.

Pupils from St Felix Primary School and parishioners from St Felix Roman Catholic Church enjoyed the sunshine on their outing on Sunday.

There were 129 walkers in total and the group included Father Michael Teader who joined in the family fun.

PCSO Les Scott ensured everyone arrived safely at East Town Park for the picnic before the return trip to the Tesco car park.

The walk and picnic were organised instead of the school fete this year due to building work at the school.

All sponsorship money raised will be split between the school's HSA (home school association) and the parish.

Stepping out: family, parish members and children from St Felix School, Haverhill, on their walk and picnic, with PCSO Les Scott. CP

Gardens open

THE New Friends of All Saints' Church in Castle Camps will be holding their annual open gardens event on Sunday, June 20.

Entry is £4 with accompanied children admitted free and tickets will be available outside the school. Tickets cover entry from noon to 6pm and include a map and description of the gardens.

Refreshments will be available from 2pm and proceeds will go towards church restoration funds.

Wallet stolen

THIEVES got into an unlocked van and stole a wallet.

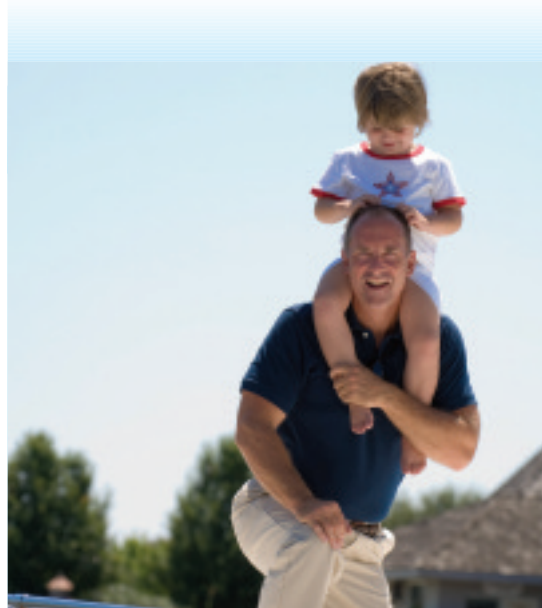

The theft from the white Ford Transit van in Clements Drive, Haverhill, happened between 7pm and 7.15pm on Thursday.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Spring praised in first speech

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MATTHEW Hancock used his maiden speech in the House of Commons to pay tribute to predecessor Richard Spring's work to make Haverhill a "town on the up".

The recently-elected Conservative MP for West Suffolk made his first speech during the debate over the constitutional bills in the Queen's Speech.

He spoke of the attractiveness of the constituency and how the new Government was giving power back to the people.

He said: "West Suffolk has been represented for the past 18 years by Richard Spring, who was well loved in the constituency, worked tirelessly for it and was admired and respected in all parts of the House."

"I cannot recall the number of times that, during the election campaign, I knocked on a door and the person who answered said:

'Big shoes to fill': new MP Matthew Hancock.

'You are following Richard Spring. Well, you've got big shoes to fill.'

"His biggest impact on the constituency was undoubtedly in the town of Haverhill, which is the largest in the constituency. It has a long history and was in the Domesday Book."

"It is now a town on the up, largely thanks to his work and that of St Edmundsbury Borough Council."

He also spoke about local opposition to plans for 1,200 new homes in Newmarket, and how the Government is "giving power back to the people".

He said: "The regional spatial strategy was forcing through an inappropriate proposal to build thousands of homes and an industrial park in the middle of Newmarket, which the council found itself powerless to reject – but no more."

"The people were given their voice and their democratically-elected councillors voted unanimously to reject the proposal."

After the debate, he said: "As I sat waiting to be called, listening to speech after speech by some very accomplished orators, I did become more than a little nervous."

"It was an honour and a privilege to be able to speak on behalf of the people of West Suffolk in Parliament."

"I am extremely glad I made it through without a hitch. The next time I am on the green benches waiting to be called, I will at least have the comfort that I have done it before."

Thanks: East of England Ambulance Trust director Paul Leaman presents Margaret Marks, the co-ordinator of the Haverhill Community First Responder Scheme, with her certificate.

CP

Margaret makes her mark

THE co-ordinator of a community first responder scheme has been given an award for her services to the East of England Ambulance Trust.

The trust formally acknowledged the work of individual volunteers who have given it more than five years of service.

Margaret Marks co-ordinates the Haverhill

Community First Responder Scheme (CFRS) and its members attend life-threatening emergencies on behalf of the ambulance trust.

She received a Certificate of Thanks from trust director Paul Leaman.

She said: "I was delighted to receive this acknowledgement."

"The CFRS provides an excellent additional service for the residents of Haverhill and I am very proud to be part of such a great team."

Over the past eight years, the scheme has treated thousands of local people and has gone from strength to strength.

If you are interesting in becoming involved with the scheme, call Margaret on (01440) 713443.

Warning after mopeds stolen

POLICE have advised moped owners to make sure their vehicles are secure and kept in garages after two were stolen over one weekend.

A red and white Yamaha Jog moped, registration AV588WE, was stolen from a back garden in Fritton Court, Haverhill, where it had been left secure. The theft happened between 11pm last Friday and 6am the following day.

At Windsor Terrace, Haverhill, a black Direct moped, registration AY08EPD, was stolen between 3am and 10am on Sunday.

Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to the crime investigation bureau on (01473) 613500, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Our Pc named best in county

A POLICE officer praised for his excellent community work has picked up a county award – and is now in the running for a national honour.

Haverhill-based Pc Will Wright received the Martin Smith Award, which recognises the work of uniformed officers, at Suffolk police force headquarters on Tuesday.

He joined the force in 2005 and became a member of the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) at its inception in 2007. He has been praised for his problem-solving abilities and his work in the community, particularly with children and young people.

The 29-year-old regularly visits schools and has trained children at middle schools in cycling proficiency.

Sgt Sarah Bartley, the SNT supervisor, said schools and residents' associations had sent messages to support his nomination.

She said: "He sums up what an SNT officer is all about."

Insp Chris Galley,

Honour: Pc Will Wright has been praised for his approach to community policing in Haverhill.

Haverhill's police chief, praised Pc Wright's approach to dealing with community issues.

He said: "I am proud to have him as a member of our team."

Pc Wright will represent Suffolk in a nationwide competition and will attend a ceremony in London later this year.

Youths damage house window

FIVE youths threw an object at a house window, causing a crack and a hole, before running off towards Haverhill Leisure Centre. The damage was caused at Thurlow Place at around 7pm on Wednesday, June 2. The youths were around 13 or 14 years old and were wearing trainers and shorts, one wore a grey T-shirt and another, a light blue T-shirt. Three of them were carrying rucksacks.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Penny Ogden at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Man steals charity box

A MAN distracted an assistant in a shop before he stole a charity box and fled along Primrose Hill, Haverhill, at around 1.45pm on Wednesday, June 2. He is described as white, in his early 30s, 5 ft 3 in tall, of slim build with short brown hair and wearing a sky blue jacket.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Guy Ainsworth at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Yobs scratch parked cars

A SILVER Vauxhall Corsa and a silver MG ZR were scratched across the bonnets in a parking area at Chester Court, Haverhill, between 3pm on Wednesday, June 2, and 1.30pm the following day. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

School raiders take computer

BURGLARS forced open a school window and stole a projector, a computer and a monitor.

The raiders targeted St Felix Roman Catholic Primary School, School Lane, Haverhill, between 6pm last Friday and 8am on Monday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to the crime investigation bureau on (01473) 613500, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Parts stolen from van

A CATALYTIC converter was stolen from a white Citroen Relay van at Boundary Road, Haverhill, between 5pm on Friday, May 28 and 9am on Tuesday, June 1. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Warning as rogue traders come calling

RESIDENTS have been warned to be extra vigilant when opening their doors to companies offering "free" home security systems.

Suffolk Trading Standards said companies are cold calling homeowners claiming to offer supposedly free alarms, full home security checks, no-obligation quotes and a service supported by official organisations – but the promises are far from the truth.

Nousha Meek, principal trading standards officer, said: "Bogus companies often target the elderly and vulnerable and use the offer of a 'free' system to draw them in.

"A resident recently paid more than £6,000 for the installation and maintenance of their 'free' alarm.

"This is a stark reminder that people should take time to consider offers and claims before parting with their hard-earned money.

"Consumers are entitled to a seven-day cancellation period under the consumer protection regulations, which allows them the time to consider what they might be signing up to."

Residents, if in doubt, can refer to the Trusted Trader scheme, at www.suffolktrustedtrader.com, which has been set up to ensure consumers are getting value for money from reputable, local firms.

Inspector Chris Gilmore, of the

BY JOHN DOWNING

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Suffolk Constabulary community safety department, said: "The majority of people who call on homes are genuine, but we would like people to be aware of this kind of incident and take some simple steps to avoid becoming a victim.

"The simple routine of 'lock, stop, chain, check' can prevent an offender gaining access to your home."

The four-step piece of advice is to keep front and back doors locked, even when at home, stop before answering the door and look through the spy-hole or window, put the door chain on if opening the door and check the details and identity of callers before allowing them in.

Insp Gilmore said: "Distraction burglars, cold callers and rogue traders do not usually break in or use force or threats.

"They take advantage of the victim's vulnerability or good nature, so that when residents engage in conversation, an offence is then committed.

"We would ask everyone to be wary of unexpected callers and to remember that you do not have to allow them entry in to your home. If you are not sure, don't open the door."

Anyone concerned about suspicious callers in their area is asked to call police on (01473) 613500.

Police seek witnesses to linked thefts

THREE overnight thefts from the same area in Haverhill are being linked by police.

At Withersfield Road, Haverhill, between 8.15pm on Wednesday, June 2 and 10am the following day, thieves broke into an orange Renault Megane in a car park by smashing a window and stole a bag which was later found in Downs Place.

At Downs Place, Haverhill, between 10.30pm on the Wednesday and 6am the following day, two three-foot fir trees and a hanging basket were stolen from a front garden.

Also in Downs Place, Haverhill, between 11pm on the Wednesday and 6am the following day, baby toiletry bags were stolen from a pram in the front garden of a house, one of which was later found in Downs Crescent.

Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Pc Guy Ainsworth at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Footlights on tour heralds homegrown future stars

KICKING off in Cambridge before a full-on UK and US tour, Footlights present their summer show, Good For You.

This will be the first show for decades to tour both the US and the UK, and represents the end of a hugely successful year for the company.

Now in its 127th year, Cambridge Footlights is the oldest sketch group in the world.

Throughout its long history, Footlights has been an unparalleled influence on British comedy.

Luminaries ranging from Peter Cook and John Cleese to present day stars such as David Mitchell, Robert Webb and Sacha Baron Cohen, all began their careers with the club.

And this tradition continues with both of last year's Edinburgh Award winners, Tim Key (Main Award) and Jonny Sweet (Best Newcomer), both of whom are recent alumni. Good For You represents a serious revamp in the Footlights' approach to the tour show.

The process began more than six months earlier than in previous years, with significantly more time devoted to the preparation.

As well as the usual imaginative sketch material, expect a mixture of video and music added to the mix.

And with two directors and three years' worth of touring experience behind the team, this show promises a lot.

These preview dates, performed on their home turf, will give the cast the chance to try out new material to help shape the upcoming tour, meaning each night will be different from the last.

So go along and cheer on these homegrown stars of the future – you saw them here first!

■ Footlights Tour Show: Good For You, ADC Theatre, running until Saturday, June 19 at 7.45pm with 2.30pm matinees. Tickets £9, £6 concessions. Contact (01223) 300085 / www.adctheatre.com

MUSIC

A perfect picnic

THERE'S a chance to enjoy some of the nation's favourite classical music while picnicking in Chippenham Park this weekend.

Music in the Park, on Saturday, features a programme of orchestral, choral and solo performances, including works by Purcell, Walton, Handel and Elgar, topped off with a stirring Proms-style finale of rousing music and spectacular fireworks.

Performers include Ely Sinfonia, under conductor Steve Bingham, Elizabeth Drury (soprano), Robert Cross (countertenor) and Andrew DeSilva (baritone).

Gates open at 5.30pm, the music starts at 7.30pm. Tickets are £16.50 (under 10s free), available from La Hogue Farm Shop in Chippenham or online at www.musicinthePark.co.uk.

Suntrap sounds

SUNTRAP will be hoping to shine when they headline at Cambridge Folk Club tomorrow.

The band – Sara Byers (vocals, accordion, guitar, whistles, bodhran), Paul Hoad (vocals, guitar, harmonica), Mary Wilson (vocals, violin) and Debbie Chalmers (violin) – perform their own material alongside the best of the traditional and contemporary folk repertoire, drawing on English song tradition and American Folk and Country.

The events kicks off at 8pm at the Golden Hind, Milton Road, Cambridge.

Comedy try outs

DYLAN Moran has announced a “work in progress” show at The Junction in Cambridge next week.

The gloriously dishevelled star of Black Books and Shaun of the Dead is performing a series of dates to try out material for his forthcoming tour. Catch this rare opportunity to see “the Oscar Wilde of comedy” on Monday at 8pm.

Tickets are £12. Contact: (01223) 511 511/ www.junction.co.uk

Rave on with Buddy and drama on stage

THE first night of the 2010 Haverhill Drama Festival begins tonight.

Sky Blue Dramawise and local players Centre Stage Company will take to the Haverhill Arts Centre stage with The Method, by Frances Bartram, and The Cobblers Ball, by Jim Sperinck, respectively.

Tomorrow sees Centre Stage return with To All Intent and Purposes, by David Hart and Swavesey RADSOC will present Tunnel Vision, by Sheila Hodgson.

These are free but ticketed performances which start at 7.30pm.

Call into the arts centre or phone (01440) 714140 for tickets. ■ There's also action off the stage at the arts centre with Sandra Bullock in her Oscar-winning performance in The Blind Side (12A), showing on Monday at 1.30pm and Tuesday at 7.45pm. It is a touching and emotional true story about a boy's journey from the depths of poverty to the peak of sporting success.

■ Enter a world of buried secrets, family tragedy and simmering sexual tension with The Girl With The Dragon Tattoo (18), based on the first installment of Stieg Larsson's hugely successful Millennium Trilogy, showing on Monday at 7.45pm.

■ From the director of An

Inconvenient Truth comes It Might Get Loud (PG), which documents the varied playing and recording styles of guitarists Jimmy Page, The Edge and Jack White. It shows on Wednesday at 7.45pm.

■ Follow the exploits of three young men working at an insurance firm in rural England in the late 1970s in the latest collaboration between Ricky Gervais and Stephen Merchant (The Office, Extras). Cemetery Junction (15) is showing on Thursday, June 17, at 7.45pm and Monday, June 21, at 1.30pm.

■ A night of rock 'n' roll will get people dancing when a Buddy Holly tribute act comes to Haverhill later this month. Marc Robinson and the Counterfeit Crickets are putting on Rave On: From Blue Days to True Love Ways, at the arts centre on Saturday, June 19, at 7.30pm. Sound-a-like, look-a-like Robinson has starred in Buddy: The Musical, Rockin' on Heaven's Door and was the first Buddy to appear on Stars in their Eyes and has toured extensively with his band.

The show also features a celebration of the British rock 'n' roller Billy Fury by Michael King. Tickets cost £15.

Doves fly in for a forest gig

THE Doves will be heading to the woods this weekend as part of the Forestry Commission's Live Music series of concerts in spectacular woodland locations around the country.

Last year saw the release of their long-awaited fourth album, Kingdom of Rust, which entered the album charts at No 2.

The band's critically acclaimed debut album in 2000, Lost Souls, was nominated for the Mercury Music Prize and was followed up by their subsequent chart-topping albums The Last Broadcast in 2002 and Some Cities in 2005.

The Doves' Jimi Goodwin said: "It was a great experience playing to a sold-out crowd at Delamere Forest last summer so we are pleased to announce another forest gig for 2010."

The band will take to the stage at Thetford Forest, near Brandon, on Saturday.

Tickets, priced at £28, are available from the Forestry Commission box office on 01842 814612, or online at www.forestry.gov.uk/music

Forestry Commission Live Music pays for itself and any profit generated goes back into improving woodlands for both wildlife and the public to enjoy.

She's Out Of My League (15):

The big film

SHE'S OUT OF MY LEAGUE (15, 104 mins) Comedy. Jay Baruchel, Alice Eve, TJ Miller, Mike Vogel, Nate Torrence, Krysten Ritter, Lindsay Sloane, Adam LeFevre, Debra Jo Rupp. Director: Jim Field Smith.

SELF-DOUBT is hard-wired into the British psyche at birth. While Americans seem to exist in a bubble of self-confidence that borders on arrogance, we don't just hide our lights under a bushel, we extinguish them entirely.

Heaven forbid we should embrace the possibility that we are beautiful, intelligent, charming and desirable creatures. It's much better to expect the worst and then be pleasantly surprised when life unexpectedly deals us a half-decent hand.

Jim Field Smith's effervescent romantic comedy strikes a chord, centring on a lovable airport security guard, whose low self-esteem almost wrecks the best relationship he might ever have.

We've all done it – extinguished the embers of potential romance before they have even smoldered because the girl or guy we like is simply too good looking, funny or smart to be interested.

In She's Out Of My League, Kirk Kettner (Baruchel) is cruelly dumped by his girlfriend Marnie (Sloane). To rub salt into the wounds, his parents (LeFevre, Rupp) have adopted Marnie like a surrogate daughter so she is always around the house with her new boyfriend in tow.

Kirk desperately wants to win her back but best friend Stainer strongly counsels against it, having always loathed Marnie.

Somehow, Kirk ends up on a date with Molly (Eve), a beautiful passenger who passes through his security gate at Pittsburgh airport. She seems keen, much to the bemusement of Kirk's jealous buddies, Stainer and Jack (Vogel). As Kirk and Molly grow closer, he takes her home to meet his loved ones.

"Twenty minutes with your family and she'll file for a restraining order," guffaws Stainer. Perhaps. This is a predictable yet hugely enjoyable genre piece that relies on our natural empathy for Baruchel's nice guy as he wrestles with myriad insecurities and derision from the people who should be bolstering his self-confidence.

His performance anchors the picture and Eve is an adorable object for Kirk's affections. The haphazard journey of self-discovery culminates in some bruising home truths at the airport. Love hurts.

Show off more up front – and then take it with you

Front gardens are so often an afterthought for homeowners, who see the front of their house only as a point of access and, more specifically, as a place to park their car and put their dustbins.

However, there is so much you can do with a front garden to make the whole house welcoming and increase its value, and it doesn't have to be high maintenance if you choose the right plants.

This year's Chelsea gold medal-winning Upwardly Mobile Garden got me thinking about how people who invest in their front garden can take many of the plants with them if they move, either by planting them in large containers or propagating them.

John Lord, managing director of John Woods Nurseries, which co-created the garden with Capel Manor College, said: "We wanted to show how with woody plants you can create a front garden that inspires."

"When you go to Holland

by Hannah Stephenson

and Germany you see that people invest in their front gardens, but people here don't take care of them. Yet they can add value to their property."

The theme of the Upwardly Mobile Garden was to demonstrate how easy it is to create a garden, especially your first, and take components of it, such as planted containers, with you when you move home. In this way, you take your ideas and learning with you throughout life.

"We've used plants that are happy in different types of soils and situations, for example, to help inexperienced gardeners understand their options," says Lord.

Included in the garden were low maintenance plants including Diervilla Cool Splash, Prunus 'Kojo-no-mai', Geranium 'Johnson's Blue', Sambucus 'Black Beauty' and Heuchera 'Midnight Rose'.

Invest in the biggest pots you can afford for permanent plantings which you intend to take with you when you move. John Woods used its own Endless Summer collection of Hydrangea macrophylla in pots, which unusually produce flowers on old and new wood and therefore are repeat flowering throughout the summer, regardless of late frosts or incorrect pruning.

If you want a tree as a focal point in your front garden, think about buying a specimen that will grow in a pot, which will be able to move with you in years to come. The Upwardly Mobile Garden featured a Cornus 'Venus', a flowering dogwood with good drought tolerance and a high resistance to diseases, in a large container. It produces striking white bracts up to 15cm in diameter each May, followed by rich red autumn colour and grows to around 3.5m in 10 years.

When planting permanent plants in containers, use a soil-based compost like John Innes which has a bit more body than some of the others and give the plant a good mulch and feed in spring.

Of course, if you want to take the fruits of your labour with you, you can also plant specimens that are going to be easy to propagate or divide. Clumps of ornamental grasses can easily be lifted and divided so you can take a portion with you.

The easiest way to take a little piece of your garden when you move is by taking hardwood cuttings of your favourite shrubs and other plants. Plants including berberis, buddleia, cornus, kerria, spiraea, deciduous viburnum, mock orange and salix are all suited to this method.

Look for shoots which have grown during the current season and are about pencil thickness or more. Cut them off, leaving a small stub on the parent plant. Trim the bottom of the cutting just below a leaf joint and the top just above one, so the shoot's around 20-23cm (8-9in) long, with all the soft growth at the top removed.

Dip the bottom of the cutting into hormone rooting liquid and then place it in a pre-prepared slit trench part-filled with sharp sand to aid drainage, so the tops of the cuttings are around 7.5cm (3in) above ground, refilling the trench with soil and firming in the cuttings.

BEST OF THE BUNCH Allium (Ornamental onion)

Their lollipop blooms always make a statement in any border, rising above all else to display mainly purple or white globes of flowers. The most majestic is the giant A. giganteum, which grows to 1.2m (4ft) and produces impressive lilac ball-shaped flowers in early summer. The popular A. cristophii has a narrow growth habit which means bulbs can be slotted between other plants in the garden during autumn. Growing between 30-60cm (1-2ft), they produce round heads 20cm (8in) across on tall stems, packed with starry purple flowers, which eventually fade to green.

Alliums will thrive in any well-drained soil in full sun. Clumps should be divided in autumn every three years. They look great popping up through ornamental grasses or other plants which hide the allium foliage, which starts to die off before the flowers bloom.

Nissan Juke priced

A Lexus is so satisfying

LEXUS and Toyota cars may have been subject to recalls over recent months but UK owners still rate them highly, a survey has shown.

Lexus topped a UK vehicle ownership satisfaction study table compiled by JD Power and Associates and What Car?

And Toyota was fifth in the table, which was based on the responses of more than 17,000 UK car owners.

In addition, the Lexus RX was rated best sports utility vehicle and the Lexus IS was the best compact executive car, while the Toyota Aygo was the best city car and the Toyota Yaris was joint top (with the Honda Jazz) in the small car category.

In the manufacturers' list topped by Lexus, Honda was in second place, Jaguar third and Mercedes-Benz fourth.

For Lexus, it was a 10th successive year at the top of the charts in this survey.

The company scored 846 points out of a possible 1,000. The points were based on vehicle appeal, which includes performance, design, comfort and features; vehicle quality and reliability; ownership costs, which includes fuel consumption, insurance and costs of service/repair; and dealer service satisfaction.

Rounding out the highest-ranked five nameplates are Honda (825), Jaguar (818), Mercedes-Benz (817) and Toyota (814).

"Earning industry-benchmark status year after year demands an in-depth understanding on how to match and further exceed customer expectations in an ever-changing and challenging environment within the automotive industry," said Martin Volk, senior research manager at JD Power and Associates.

At the model level, Lexus, Honda and Toyota each capture two awards. The Lexus RX (SUV) and IS (compact executive car); Honda Jazz (small car) and Accord (upper medium car); and Toyota Aygo (city car) and Yaris (small car) each rank highest in their respective segments. Also receiving segment-level awards are the Kia cee'd (lower medium car); Mazda MX-5 (sports car); and the Mercedes-Benz B-Class (MPV).

While a majority of brands have increased in satisfaction compared with 2009, Hyundai, Mitsubishi and Nissan all improve considerably – up 19 points, 24 points and 14 points, respectively. In addition, Jaguar is up 13 points from 2009 and performs particularly well in vehicle appeal and service satisfaction. The Jaguar XF also ranks highest in the executive/luxury car segment.

"It's a fantastic performance from Jaguar and great news for the brand," said Steve Fowler, editor of What Car? The annual JD Power and Associates/What Car? study is based on a study of 17,000 respondents.

Juke boxes clever at £12,795

SECTOR-DEFINING innovation is no longer priceless... Nissan has announced the prices of its ground-breaking compact crossover model, the Juke, will start at a supermini-rivalling £12,795.

Shunning conventional design in favour of more creative thinking, the Juke will shake up the small car sector with a line-up that's set to appeal to a broad spread of drivers. At the top of the range sits a 187bhp turbocharged model available from £15,695, extending the Juke's appeal as a compact SUV with sports car genes.

The Juke range kicks off with a frugal 115bhp 1.6-litre petrol engine, backed up by a fuel-sipping 108bhp 1.5-litre dCi diesel.

The ultimate Juke comes equipped with a new 187bhp 1.6-litre direct injection turbo petrol engine in both two and four-wheel drive. The

The Nissan Juke: On sale in September.

£19,995 all-wheel-drive range-topper is mated to Nissan's XTRONIC CVT transmission, with six-speed manual mode and adds lateral torque-vectoring – a first in the small car segment and a technology that has, until now, only been found on top-of-the-range, premium cars.

Innovation is central to every part of the Juke's design. Inside, another world first for the small car segment is Nissan Dynamic Control System. A central command and display module like no other, it allows the driver to alter dynamic drive settings as well as easily control functions such as climate control. What's more, the system adopts different displays, colours and functions depending on the mode selected by the driver.

Juke will officially go on sale in late September with order books open now. The range will consist of three core specification levels already familiar to Nissan drivers: Visia, Acenta and Tekna.

Toyota Aygo: Top city car.

Superb deals rule at Abington

ABINGTON Motors is an independent used car dealership that offers its customers high quality, low mileage models at very competitive prices.

In April 2006, Mark Jones and Laurence Jebb established Abington Motors, offering people a broad selection of cars suiting a wide variety of requirements and budgets. Under their leadership, Abington Motors has now become an established and popular option for motorists looking to buy a quality used car.

Mark said: "Business has been really good, even better than we expected. I think we have done so well because we do a genuinely friendly job. A lot of our customers come to us on recommendations from friends and family and we've had a lot of repeat business, where happy buyers come back to us because they were pleased with the service we provide for them."

The successful partnership saw Mark and Laurence, both of whom have been in the industry for many years, amalgamate their previous businesses and join forces. Mark, who began selling cars 25 years ago, is from St Albans while Laurence, who also has more than two decades' experience in the trade, is from Royston. Due to the success of the business, Mark and Laurence increased the sales team with Paul Wynn joining them as a sales executive three years ago, adding still further to the expertise and experience within Abington Motors.

The dealership has around 30 cars in stock, ranging in price from £1,000 to £15,000, and cars are aged from less than a year on up to around 10 years old. Mark said: "We do all of our own buying from known and reliable sources. We are also happy to buy quality used cars for cash from members of the public.

'Business has been really good': Abington Motors is now an established and popular used car centre.

"All of the cars we sell come with a minimum three-month warranty and all of the service and MOT work we carry out on our cars before sale is carried out by our own workshop."

With the World Cup soon to be dominating our lives, Abington Motors is entering into the spirit of the competition by offering customers six months' free road fund licence on all vehicles sold during the period of the World Cup in South Africa.

Mark said: "We will continue to grow because we provide such a personal service – Abington Motors is a very friendly and relaxed place to shop for a car. Customers are encouraged to browse our stock at their leisure."

The dealership can also offer you a range of competitively priced finance packages that can be tailored to your specific circumstances to assist with the purchase of your car. Mark or Laurence will help you choose the best option and to make the process as smooth as possible, they would love to take your existing vehicle in part-exchange.

For a full list of vehicles currently for sale at Abington Motors visit

AFP Ltd has been experiencing continued growth despite the difficult economy. We anticipate further significant growth during the coming months. It can be seen from the current and past vacancies on our website that we have and are continuing to strengthen our Engineering and Sales support team.

We are now expanding our manufacturing capability. There are currently vacancies in all areas of our main production facility in Haverhill, UK.

Your duties will include the assembly and testing of many and varied fibre optic components. To be successful in this role you would need good manual dexterity and a keen eye for detail. Whilst it would be an advantage if you have worked in the fibre optic industry before, it is not essential, as full training is given to all staff. So long as you are a quick learner, and enjoy working as part of a team, you will fit in well working with us. We currently run 3 shifts. A 6am to 2pm (early shift) and a 2pm to 10am (late shift). These shifts are also supplemented with a day shift.

A competitive wage will be paid to the successful applicants.

To apply please submit your CV along with a covering letter to Sam Catley scatley@afpgco.com Tel: 01440 766622

Ellis run rampage in vain

A TYPICALLY swashbuckling unbeaten century from Gary Ellis almost earned Horseheath a stunning win against Haverhill in the top flight of the Adams Harrison Midweek League.

Ellis battered 113 not out as Horseheath tried to chase down a Haverhill score of 177 for 5 which featured an unbeaten 75 from Adam Dellar and 55 from Alex Fullerton against Wes Walker's 3 for 39.

But even with 31 from Dave Brown, Horseheath fell six runs short.

Babraham eased to victory over Brockley, their 196 for 6 leaning on Andy Palmer's 62, Dale Archer's 56 and 36 from Ben Morgan.

Brockley got no closer than 142 for 7, pegged back by Charles Shannon's 3 for 26. Freddie Klokler scored 36 and Joe Reed 32.

Saffron Walden got back on the winning trail, Grant Gillard powering them to victory against Weston Colville with an unbeaten 73.

Trevor Westley led Weston Colville's pursuit of 145 for 4 with 25 but they finished on 114 for 9.

Abington are clear at the top of Division Two after a last-over win against Long Melford.

They were powered in by Andy Bishop, whose 41 came when Melford were in control.

The visitors made 120 for 3 – Andrew Wade taking 3 for 19 – on the back of Ashley Skeggs' 49 and 38 from Stuart Whitehart. Abington got in at 121 for 8.

Hundon (132 for 9) skittled Manor for 94, and in a low-scoring game at Ashdon, Steven Moss must have felt unlucky to be on the losing side after taking 6 for 13 to reduce Mill Green to 96 (Ed Ford 57).

Ashdon never got closer than 93 for 4.

Gestingthorpe continue to plough on at the top of Division 3A, scoring 103 for 2 against Great Yeldham's 102 for 8 (Mark Roberts 38).

Haverhill II's racked up another win, scoring 109 for 3 (Alex Archer 46 not out, Micky Rinaldo 29 not out) against Hundon II's 106 for 6.

Highpoint secured their first win of the season, scoring 79 for 2 to pip Wrattling Lions' 78 for 6.

Arron Waters 30, Dave Dixon 32 and Steve Storey 3 for 26 provided the high points.

And in Division 3B Balsham (81 for 4) tied with Linton (81 for 8) despite the best efforts of Mick Housden, who followed his unbeaten 44 with a hat-trick as he finished with 3 for 25.

Haverhill ease in HAVERHILL eased to a 6-3 win against Bures in Division Two of the Halstead and District League. Adam Fowle and Jake Warner won 6-1, 7-6, 4-6; Ian Terry and Stuart Read lost 6-2, 1-6, 5-7 while Nigel Fitch and Ross Tobin had convincing wins of 6-1, 6-3, 6-0 against the three Bures pairs of Pat Gough and Paolo Ayala, Mick Cook and Dan Fairclough and Tim Fairclough and Howard Macandrew.

KEEPER Aaron Millar emerged as West Wrattling's hero at the prestigious Alconbury tournament. He made some outstanding saves in the penalty shootout which decided the under-13 final against Priory Parkside A. Wrattling qualified for the latter stages after winning five, drawing two and losing one game in the league stage, with Earle Lambert scoring six times followed by Ryan Cooper (3) and Sam Ager (1). It meant they faced Woodston Dynamos, from the Peterborough Junior Alliance in the semi-final, gaining revenge on the only side to beat them in the competition thanks to goals from Cooper and Lambert. However, the latter picked up an injury near the end and missed the final against Cambridge and District Colts League A division rivals Priory Parkside. Although both sides had chances, the game ended goalless and Millar proved his worth in the shootout with George Sheath and Ben Murray scoring to clinch a 2-1 win. West Wrattling also got their hands on some silverware at the Cambridge league's presentation evening, collecting the under-13C divisional title which was won with a record-breaking 63 points out of a possible 66. Squad: Aaron Millar, Ryan Cooper, Chris Elliott, Robert Foster, Lewis Massie (Capt), Mark Coulson, Sam Ager, Ben Murray, Harvey Scotton, Leon Bailey, Earle Lambert, Scott Ankers, Michael Torode, George Sheath, Jack Payne (not pictured). Castle Camps were also at the Cambridge ceremony to collect their prizes after clinching an under-11 double of under-11A

Richard's on the boil at double

JUNIOR member Richard Boyles has had his handicap cut after a significant week at the Haverhill club.

He won the Roger Turley Putter competition – which was combined with the Leonard Cheshire Disability Charity Event (Golfability) – and also edged to victory in the men's June Stableford.

He won the Putter with 43 points, and was further boosted when his handicap was trimmed by three shots to 13.

Best women's score in the competition came from Lyn Fish with 40pts, earning her and Boyles a place in the national prize draw to win an invitation to the final at the Marriott Forest of Arden on September 6.

Details - 1 Richard Boyles 43pts, 2 Charlie Sigler 41pts on countback from 3 David Pipe.

Richard Parker 42pts, 2 Jonathan Moore 39pts, 3 Robert Rudge 38pts.

Division Two: 1 Richard Boyles 43pts, 2 Keith Donno 41pts, 3 Peter Bowers 40pts.

Division Three: 1 Stephen Boyles 42pts, 2 Neil White 37pts, 3 Brian Harney 37pts.

■ Robert Salter's stunning score eased him to the scratch prize in the Junior Open at the Haverhill club. He carded a brilliant 75-7-70 in a competition which was divided into three handicap categories.

Details. Category A (handicaps 0-14) – 1 Jack Phillips 76-13-63, 2 Paul Waring 78-11-67, 3 Sam Palmer 76-7-69.

Category B (handicaps 15-28): 1 Stephen

Boyles 84-26-58, 2 Richard Boyles 78-16-62, 3 Liam Merritt 84-16-68.

Category C (10-hole stableford): 1 Louis Martin 34pts, 2 Daniel Bradnam 32pts, 3 Joshua Hulver 26pts.

Away member's prize: 1 Ryan Hunn 82-12-70, 2 Kyle Procter 81-10-71.

■ The Lady Captain's Charity Day was plundered by raiders from other clubs, with Stowmarket's Kim Davies doing particularly well.

She was part of the winning team for a competition played in a stableford format (two scores to count on the first six holes, three on seven to 12, then all scores to count on 13-18) and then won the putting competition with a mammoth 70ft effort.

In all, though, £676.45 were raised for captain Sally Price's chosen charity, the RNIB, and the funds will be donated towards their Talking Books scheme.

Details - 1 Stowmarket A (Liz Laffin, Jo Finter, Fiona Ferrie and Kim Davies) 110pts, 2 Stowmarket B (Julie Blemings, Teresa Wardlaw, Beverly Waspe and Linda Bensley) 93pts, 3 Braintree and The Essex (Carol Davies, Carolyn Harris, Pat Souter and Karen Thake) 90pts.

■ Past women's captain Doreen

Darbey took top spot in the ladies' section's Wednesday Medal, scoring a commendable 100-28-72 and having her handicap reduced by a shot.

However, Anna Fairhead's handicap has been trimmed by three to 20 after her comprehensive victory in the Saturday Medal.

Details – Wednesday Medal: 1 Doreen Darbey 100-28-72, 2 Mary Sail 91-16-75, 3 Sally Price 102-26-76.

Saturday Medal: 1 Anna Fairhead 90-23-67, 2 J Condon 93-21-72, 3 Marian Mercer 103-30-73.

■ Haverhill Ladies (Mary Sail and Jackie Condon, Denise Walker and Kathy Bowman, and Sue Carr and Karen Wilby) were beaten 2½-½ by Stowmarket in their first county match of the season.

■ Dan Bentley will be able to play off the white tees after winning the Spring Cup during half-term week.

Bentley, a 36-handicapper, scored a nett 60 off the yellow tees and has had his handicap reduced and can now play off the new marks.

Charlie Sigler (81-17-64) was next best followed by Chris Vince (74-5-68).

■ Malcolm Klinge, the Parks competition captain, scored a hole-in-one on the par-three 116-yard eighth hole using a pitching wedge.

■ Haverhill's Seniors continued their winning streak by beating Ely 3½-2½.

Cricket: League round-up

Victory chase is foiled by weather

HEAVY rain forced a premature end to Haverhill's attempts to secure their first Hunts County Bats Suffolk League, Division One win of the season.

They were well poised – needing 34 runs off 4.4 overs with four wickets in hand against Battisford – in their pursuit of 204 for 6 when the heavens opened and play was washed out. Julian Poole, who had earlier taken 3 for 34 with some delightful outswingers on a perfect bowlers' wicket, figured in a 95-run partnership with Craig Williams and one of 40 with Joe Woodley before perishing for 94 just as the weather intervened.

They are at home to Worlington (1.30pm) on Sunday.

The second team, who are away to Elveden in Division Four on Sunday, produced a below-par batting performance and were thumped by Rougham last weekend.

They made a poor start after winning the toss and, after losing a wicket in the first over, spiralled to 126 for 7, Greg Street top-scoring with 34. Rougham obviously decided to put the game to bed before it started to rain and with Boor scoring a fine 84, they eased home at 128 for 4.

Dell-boy turns it on

ADAM Dellar led by example with an unbeaten 63 as Haverhill moved up to second in Division Two of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship following a six-wicket win at home to Elmstead Grasshoppers.

Grasshoppers set a target of 226 for 8, but Scott Webb (58) and Torquil Riley-Smith (38) put together an opening stand of 78 in reply.

Sam Powell continued with 41 before skipper Dellar teamed up with Dan Poole in an unbeaten partnership of 54.

They helped the hosts ease through with 227 for 4 with nine overs to spare.

The first team travel to Dunmow on Saturday (1pm).

The weakened second team, however, slumped to their first Division Six defeat of the season on a difficult wicket at Melton St Audrey, although several felt it was just the jolt they needed to sharpen minds and attitudes.

With four of their top six batsmen unavailable, Nural Hoque came out of retirement and Steve Fox made his debut.

Hoque made his presence felt with two wickets as the home side, who won the toss, slipped to 37 for 3. But Smith (86 not out) and Jackson (54) rode their luck in a stand of 115 that proved the backbone of their 204 for 8 (Dan Webb 3 for 57) with wicketkeeper Jon Watkins taking three catches and a stumping.

The total should have been within Haverhill's capabilities but a series of careless shots sent them crashing to 147, Carl Bradford (36) and Fox (28 not out) proving the mainstays of the innings.

They will be hoping to get their season back on track against Ipswich at home on Saturday (1pm).

■ Weston Colville crashed to an 84-run defeat against Waresley in the Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League.

The Division Two strugglers were set a total of 234 for 8 but never got into a position to threaten the total and slumped to 150.

Horseheath came unstuck against Histon in Division One of the Cricket Stick CCA Senior League.

Andy Oakes' unbeaten half-century helped the visitors to 201 for 5, but Horseheath got no closer than 199 for 9, Mick Ketteridge top-scoring with 31.
